

Hopscotch Grid Sample

Isaiah
53:6

of us
all.

has laid
on Him

the iniquity

and the Lord

every one,

to his own
way;

we have turned,

have gone
astray;

All we like sheep

ALL we like sheep

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

have gone astray!

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

we have
turned,

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

every
one,

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

to his own way!

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

and the Lord

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

has Laid on Him

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

the iniquity

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

of us
all.

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

Isaiah

53:6

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.
