

Hopscotch Grid Sample

Isaiah 42:8

to carved images.

to
another,

nor My praise

I will not give

My name;

And My
glory

that is

the Lord,

I am

the Lord,

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

that is

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

My name!

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

And my glory

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

I will not

give

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

to another,

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

nor My praise

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

to carved images.

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.

Isaiah

42:8

Print the memory verse pages on cardstock or laminate them if possible. Securely tape them in a hopscotch formation on the floor. Leave gaps between the sheets so students can easily maneuver over them. They will recite the verse as they hop. You may want more than one grid depending on the size of your class. To preserve the Memory Verse Pages during the game, have the students take their shoes off.
